Criteria	Lacks alignment	Average	On Target	Score
0	1	2	3	4	5
New Initiative	Project is a current initiative by the MP that does not fit well within their own mission.	Project is a hybrid between existing ministry activities and a new initiative and fits well within their own mission.	Project is a new initiative by the MP that fits well within their own mission.
Overall merits and impact	The proposed project activities outcomes are not clear. The idea needs improvement, and the mission is not understood. Fund allocation is not clear.	The proposed project activities outcomes are not completely clear and understood. Idea is organized but needs improvement, and the mission is not fully understood. Funds need additional clarity.	The proposed project activities lead to the desired outcome. Idea is a well organized, deployable, clear and focused mission. Funds are clearly allocated and accounted for.
Alignment to our mission statement	Lack of alignment between the MCGF's mission and its goals	Somewhat of an alignment between the MCGF's mission and the goals of the work described in the grant's application.	Clear and strong alignment between the MCGF's mission and the goals of the work described in the grant's application.
Project is sustainable in the long term without MCGF support	The project is not sustainable into the near future and will need further financial and supportive assistance to continue forward.	The project is somewhat sustainable into the future and may require outside help to maintain or grow the project/program.	The project is sustainable into the future without the help of the MCGF and a clear plan for sustainability financially is laid out.
Collaboration with other agencies or non-profits with similar motives	MP is working independently despite opportunities to collaborate with similar or like minded partners being present. MPs are unwilling to work with others.	MP has a desire and a plan to work with like minded partners to fulfill the project mission to make it more sustainable and carry more impact.	MP has chosen to collaborate with other MPs with similar motives in order to make the project more comprehensive, have more impact, and be more supported in the long term.
